Project details

Econetix Climate Project Portfolio

This retirement is backed by High Integrity Carbon Credits drawn from the Econetix project portfolio, a curated mix of certified climate projects rather than a single project, combining impact, quality and risk diversification. The portfolio spans clean energy and energy efficiency, for example solar lamps and efficient cookstoves, nature based projects such as reforestation and forest protection.

All projects are certified under leading standards such as Gold Standard or Verra (VCS), independently validated and verified, with each credit tracked in a public registry and permanently retired upon offsetting.

SDG Impact

Across the portfolio, projects contribute to a broad range of UN Sustainable Development Goals. This includes improved health and reduced illness risk through cleaner air and water, better learning conditions for children, reduced energy costs and access to clean, affordable energy for local communities, local employment and income opportunities, as well as the protection of biodiversity and ecosystems through reforestation and land conservation.

Together, these effects support both global climate action and tangible social and environmental benefits in the countries where the projects are located.
